THE DAILY SENTINEL.

WM. B. PELL, Editor.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1865.

THE NATIONAL UNION TICKET.

FOR GOVERNOR,

Jonathan Worth, Esq.

OF RANDOLPH.

ELECTION THURSDAY NOV. 9th.

THE PEOPLE must be trusted with their Government, and if trusted, my opinion is that they will act in good faith, and restore their former constitutional relations with all the States composing the Union.—Andrew Johnson's Letter to Gov. Sharkey, of Mississippi.

THE NATIONAL UNION PARTY.

We acknowledge His Excellency, ANDREW JOHNSON, President of the United States of American, to be the head and leader of the great National Union party. His reconstruction policy is at present the basis of that party, and we stand firmly upon it. This is the only party we acknowledge in this State.

Election Returns.

We shall be glad for our friends to send us the earliest news of the results of the election, for Governor, Congress and Legislature.

Mr. Turner's Appointments.

Mr. Turner requests us to recall his appointments in the mountains, as he cannot attend them.

He requests us to state that he will address the people of Warren at Warrenton on the 8th inst.

President Johnson's Policy.

The Standard tries to twit the Sentinel about its opposition to Gov. Holden. So long as we supposed Gov. Holden was carrying out President Johnson's policy we sustained him, but when it became palpable that he was executing a policy of his own, not pursued by the Governor of any other State, we could do so no longer. For months we supposed that Gov. Holden was acting under special instructions of the President, but when we learned that the instructions to all the Governors were the same, and that none of the rest pursued the course of Gov. Holden, we felt bound to demur. Why should North Carolina be treated differently from other States? Here where by general consent our people were more thoroughly Union than any where else?

The other Governors made use of as much of the State organization as they could to facilitate reconstruction. Here the reverse was done. Where else but in North Carolina were new magistrates appointed, where there were already so many old ones? Where were Bank officers displaced to make way for others? Where were Railroad Directors and Presidents removed to make way for others? Where was the inefficiency as Railroad men, of W. J. Hawkins, Jno. D. Whitford, S. D. Wallace and Thos. Webb. The men appointed to fill their places were good men, but what had the Banks and the Railroads to do with the reconstruction of the State? What peculiar fitness for Railroad Directors had John L. Pennington and W. A. Smith? What had all the Judges done, that so few were fit to be retained? The President had pardoned most of them and yet they did not suit! Even the town police of the State did not suit.

Did President Johnson direct all this? Was it a part of his policy? Did he or does he now approve of the dilatory course of the Governor?—Our pledge to support Gov. Holden's policy was based upon his support of President Johnson.—If the two differ, in their spirit and design, are we bound to support both?

Another Gun Spiked.

The Standard charges upon Mr. Worth:

"That on the 8th of August, 1865, Jonathan Worth addressed an audience of four or five hundred persons at Ashboro', Randolph County, and took ground in favor of the payment of the war debt, declaring that its non-assumption would be disgraceful to the State."

We are authorized to deny the above charge definitely and distinctly. Mr. Worth maintained in his speech on that occasion, the same ground precisely that he has since. He affirmed on that occasion, in our present condition he did not know what was best to be done—that his own judgment had not been made up, and he thought it improper at that stage, for the people to take ground, either for or against its repudiation, until they had all the facts before them. Mr. Worth is well known to be an honest man—to oppose any, even the least violation of a solemn contract—to be in principle and at heart an anti-repudiator out and out, but the question of the State war debt was a complicated one, involving principles of great moment, he did not in that speech, nor had he up to the time of the repudiation of the debt by the Convention, made up his mind fully upon the subject. Regarding the action by the Convention, acting under the demands of the government, as a sine qua non to our admission into the Union as final, he regards the question as a settled one. This is his position, and any thing to the contrary is false and unfounded.

IMPOSITION.—Some unprincipled fellow sent us more than a week ago, the marriage notice of Mr. W. H. P. Jenkins of Granville. As the name of the party or the assumed party, seemed to be genuine, we published it. We learn that there is no truth in it, and that our friend Jenkins is still enjoying the pleasure of "single-blessedness."—We will endeavor to find the letter, which we think has been preserved, and will send it to Mr. J. Such conduct merits punishment.

Hon. Josiah Turner, Jr., and the Standard.

The ire of the Standard is especially aroused against Mr. Turner. Its columns teem with misrepresentations of him, yet the people who know Mr. T. fully as well as the Standard does, are determined to vote for him.

Mr. Turner is an honest man and an honest politician. He is rash, blunt and severe sometimes, but he says nothing he does not believe or cannot sustain by good evidence. He has given the Standard and the Governor but little cause to love him or to vote for him. He has not used soft-soap upon them, but he has blistered them badly with the ointment of plain but wholesome truth.

Yet all this does not justify the wholesale slanders of the Standard against Mr. Turner. It charges him with voting against the Stay law, to distress the people. Mr. Turner voted against the Stay law because it was unconstitutional and because it would afford no relief to the people. Every body must now see, if they had paid their debts in Confederate times, it would have been better for them.

Mr. Turner is charged day after day by the Standard with having been a secessionist. So ridiculous a charge against one of the most stubborn Union men in the State, every one would think useless to refute.

Mr. Turner introduced his resolutions, called his "declaration of war," after he entered the army, after Gov. Ellis had called for 30,000 men, and five months after South Carolina had seceded. The whole State was in arms. Gov. Holden had three months before voted at the polls for a Convention. He had promised the people of Wake in his circular as a candidate for the last Convention, to take them out of the old Union and put them in the Confederacy. Mr. Turner's purpose evidently was to forestal and prevent the assertion of the right of secession by the Legislature of North Carolina; but if the people were determined to leave the old Union, he desired them to assert the right of revolution and not the right of secession. That was clearly the object of Mr. Turner's resolutions, and he was for submitting the question to the people.

In twenty days after the introduction of Mr. Turner's resolutions into the Senate, Gov. Holden voted in Convention for Mr. Badger's ordinance, which contained the identical doctrines of Mr. Turner's resolutions, in preference to Mr. Burton Craige's ordinance, which asserted the right of secession. The Governor having then abandoned his secession principles.

Here then reader, is the entire gist of the testimony of the Standard in regard to the charge that Messrs. Turner and Worth, were secessionists! Gov. Holden endorsed the very doctrine twenty days after Mr. Turner's resolutions were introduced, of which the Standard now attempts to make capital against Mr. Turner.

Campaign Documents.

The friends of Jonathan Worth have issued but two campaign documents, the speech of the Hon. Josiah Turner, jr., and "W. W. Holden's Record." The Sentinel has made no effort to excite the public feeling or to arouse the spirit of retaliation. We have confined its circulation during the canvass to our regular subscribers—none of them having been distributed gratuitously by us. For the success of Mr. Worth and the defeat of Gov. Holden, we have said nothing we do not honestly believe. Our weapon has been truth and nothing but truth, and our cause will succeed. That is our honest conviction.

The Standard has charged and charged, raved and cavorted; published statements and drawn inferences which it knows to be untrue, for political effect. It has charged upon the compiler of "W. W. Holden's record," garbling and false statements, but has carefully avoided any attempt to prove its assertions. Our campaign documents have simply arrayed the "Standard" against the "Standard," W. W. Holden against Gov. Holden, and this array has been telling in its effects. The people of the State and at the North have been astonished at the developments of the Governor's own record.

We judge from what we hear that the chief reliance of Gov. Holden and his friends has been, the circulation of the Standard gratuitously in untold numbers. It has made a bad record for itself and its owner in future campaigns. The people should preserve its issues. They will be literary and moral curiosities, and in future campaigns may be used by its antagonists with damage. Let it be preserved.

The Stay Law and Mr. Worth.

The Standard was the eulogist of Mr. Worth until he became a candidate for Governor. Now it attempts to hold him up as an unfeeling oppressor of the people. His vote on the stay law only became criminal when Mr. Worth became a candidate. Mr. Worth's protest against the passage of the stay law, puts his opposition to it upon the ground of its palpable unconstitutionality and its inexpediency. Mr. Worth had sworn to support the constitution, and he is not the man to foreswear himself, when his judgment and conscience forbid it. The Supreme Court in the first instance endorsed his position and will do so again, if that law were brought before it. Can the Standard show that the stay law was not an unwise, injudicious measure? Would not the people have been better off if they had paid their debts in Confederate times? The attempt to implicate Mr. Worth as unfeeling to the poor, is shameful. When was he unfeeling or unkind?—When did he close his ears to the soldier or to the needy? Never.

SENTENCED.—Mr. W. A. Mascom, of Chatham, who was tried in this city some time ago, by a military commission, for killing a negro has been sentenced to hard labor for twelve months, at Fort Pulaski. A petition has been sent to the President asking his reprieve.

The Tables Turned!

"ELECT HOLDEN AND GO IN, OR ELECT WORTH AND STAY OUT."

THE PLOT EXPOSED!

Rally Worth Men! RALLY!!

The Standard and the Holden presses of the State have tried to humbug the people long enough. Truth is mighty and will prevail.—Men of sense and respectability in the State have lent themselves unwittingly to the humbug, by admitting that because Gov. Holden was chosen by President Johnson for Provisional Governor, therefore he prefers him for civil Governor.—They have given effect and force to the humbug, by listening to the paltry balderdash, that the North is in favor of Holden—that it will be better for the State at Washington and at the North, for Holden to be elected. Never was there a more unfounded—a more groundless idea.

Can the people of North Carolina suppose that Gov. Holden stands better abroad than at home? Can they suppose that when the people North find out how Gov. Holden stood at home, that they will still hold to him? Do our people think the Congress and the President are now ignorant of Gov. Holden's true record? Do they not know he has been the most vacillating, inconstent and unreliable politician in the South?—Do they not know that Jonathan Worth has been the most consistent, uniform and unwavering man in his political course in the State? Rest assured the Congress and the President and the people North, know Mr. Worth and they know Mr. Holden.

The assertion that President Johnson prefers Mr. Holden for civil Governor is untrue, if we can believe reliable gentlemen at Washington in high office.

On the 28th ult, we published the following extract from a letter from a gentleman of high character in Washington:

"Let every thing be done to enlighten the people of North Carolina. Holden is trying to produce the impression that the President is for him. It is not true."

Again, on the 30th ult., we stated:

"We are authorized to state upon authority little less than that coming directly from the President himself, that "the Government will not in any way interfere with the people of North Carolina, in respect to the choice for Governor. It is a matter entirely for the people, and any pretence that this or that candidate is to be elected on the demands of the Government is without any authority whatever."

Let the people consider these extracts and the high source from whence they come. Let the press of the State instruct the people on this subject fully.

Again, John L. Pennington of the Progress, it is known, is a strong Holden man. He has tried to keep up this idea; but suddenly the Progress shuts up about the election. Finding it is doing Gov. Holden more harm than good, Pennington has gone to Washington to try what he can do for his friend Holden there.

We warn the people, if telegrams come out from Washington while Pennington is there, they will understand them. We doubt if there are 500 people in North Carolina who would believe any telegram John L. Pennington would make in regard to the election.

In his paper, the Progress, writing from Washington about five hours after he got there—a stranger in the city, see what he says:

"The defeat of Gov. Holden, should such an unfortunate event occur, will cause not only surprise but misgivings as to the future among the best friends of the State here. All express great surprise, including the President, that Gov. Holden should have opposition, for they deplore the division among our people which they know must have caused it."

Now who can believe a word of this? A stranger in Washington, in five hours writing home the opinions of the President and leading men connected with the Government! The thing is incredible, and it only shows up Mr. Pennington in his true character.

Now look on this side of the picture. A letter from a gentleman at Washington City, who enjoys the confidence of the President and cabinet, writing on the 29th ult., says:

"In the last letter I gave you assurance that the Government did not demand, or require Holden's election. Not only so, but I believe the election of Gov. Holden would prove a serious obstacle to the restoration of the State. For however he may have repented of his past treason, his long acting as one of the leading conspirators in bringing on rebellion, and his efforts to embitter the people against the government of their fathers, still his record remains, his past history will come up before Congress when the motion for admitting the State comes up. His present denial of notorious facts serve only to cast doubt upon his pretended repentance."

Again on the 31st. ult., he says:

"I know that the Government will do nothing to endorse Mr. Holden, and you should have the fact stated in all the papers, that are willing to state the truth. * * * * His election will do the State infinite damage, first, on account of his part in bringing about secession, and secondly, on account of his affiliations North.

E. W. Carpenter at Newbern, who has been the author of the telegrams puffing Holden, was formerly a bar tender in Milwaukie, was there guilty of some election fraud for which he had to leave; next associated with that humbug Charles H. Foster who tried to get into the U. S. Congress in 1861. * * * *

This Carpenter is now a Notary Public at Newbern, appointed by Mr. Holden. What you see as public opinion in the North is nearly all the manufacture of this fellow and a few others. The people of the North will not and do not prefer any man who was ever engaged in plunging the country into war. I have spoken with many influential men, and when they learn the true state of the case, they are surprised that sensible men would let themselves be imposed on by such stuff as Holden's electioneering puffers. * * *

Gov. Holden has an agent here, Dr. Powell, who is very busy around the Departments, saying that the issue is Holden and non-assumption of the war debt, or Worth and assumption of that debt. He says not a word about Holden and come in, or Worth and stay out, for he knows perfectly well that Congress is the party that is to say come in. It is therefore important that men should be sent to Congress, who possess force of mind and character. And it is all important that a man of Holden's antecedents and character should not be Governor."

The above may be relied on. The gentleman who makes the statement is in a position to know what he says, and he stands ready to substantiate what he says if required.

Gov. Holden and Mr. Worth.

In Mr. Worth's letter to us published a few days ago, he showed conclusively, that his own position and that of the Standard and the Governor, on the question of the State war debt, had been identical, except that at one time the Standard and the Governor had taken ground in favor of immediate action upon it by the Convention, but had backed down, whereas he had been all the time in favor of non-action until the people could be fully consulted, or we could learn the views of the government. The Standard has not denied this, and yet persists in charging Mr. Worth and his friends with plotting for the payment of the war debt. How can honest or respectable men give their countenance to such a course?

For the Sentinel.

That Pitiful Trick.

The Court Journal has had the grace to admit on two or three different occasions that all power is with the people, and it has almost admitted once or twice that the present election is to be a free fight. At the same time, it has always since the contest begun, shaken a rod over the people by intimating in unmistakable terms, that the election would not amount to much unless the right man was chosen. Of late however, the threat is withdrawn from its columns. It is well; for some people think if that game had been kept up, that the Governor might himself have been withdrawn by a Presidential fiat. The President had put his foot down, and would no longer be played with in that way. Advices from Washington assure us that President Johnson had no choice between the candidates, and only desired that the successful contestor should be able to "present a good Union record."—This can be done by Jonathan Worth. No one can show a better. His opponent cannot show one the fiftieth part as good. Why does not the Court Journal elaborate this question? Why does it not answer or excuse, or at least condescend to notice, the various elegant extracts from the pen of its candidate in former years? It has indeed denied the truth of a certain comment on those extracts. What about the extracts themselves? Does it, can it deny them? Are they not correct? That's the question. Did the proprietor and former editor of that Journal always advocate Union sentiments? Did he often urge secession? Did he say that he "had always held that the States had a right to secede for cause?" And did he maintain that the States must judge of the cause, each for itself as in such cases there was no common umpire? Shade of Jackson! Is this a "good Union record?" And this our intense Union candidate, without whom we can not "GO BACK?" Is this the Unionist, without whose agency in returning to the family mansion, we are be to scattered as sheep without a shepherd? If he is not our shepherd, are the dogs to be let loose upon us to worry and devour us? Tell it not in Gath. And is this the free fight we were to have? Is this the way to test the will of the people?

The Court Journal often indulges in vaticination about the results of the coming election. It is quite sure that its favorite is equally the favorite of our people, and that his triumphant election is a foregone conclusion? Does it remember similar prophecies made by its former editor in 1864. W. W. Holden, was then as sure of success as he is now. Was he elected by the anticipated majority of 20,000? It is rather thought that he was not elected at all. Some people have a dim recollection, that he was defeated by thirty odd thousand votes. This was very surprising to the confident editor, who so strenously advocated his own cause, in the same paper now under the so-called control of the hopeful young gentlemen whose verdure and innocency are so very refreshing. Is it not within the range of possibility that they may also meet with another surprise? Ought they to be so very confident? May not their filial wishes be father to this hope? Would it grieve them to catch a similar tumble-down? Let them put their house in order. Othello once lamented that his occupation was gone. Their employee may again resume his old arm chair, in propria persona, without let or hindrance from superior power; then what becomes of their vocation? They may have no kind patron to besprinkle with incense, and bedew with daily praise.

That cunningly devised plot for scaring the people may fail. True, our people were pretty extensively instructed in their duty to vote for the present Governor, on pain of the President's displeasure. The Standard hammered away pretty effectively on that topic, till it was stopped. Equally true is that many people may not learn in time that this was all bosh. And the proprietor of the Standard may in some remote regions reap the reward of this unworthy deception.—But when it does become known, it is very certain that he will lose largely by this very sorry trick. The vengeance of the honest people is aroused, when they once detect in those who ask their favor, an attempt to deceive them. This shameless attempt was made, and it will not soon be forgiven. The Court Journal may have calculated right, that in many parts of the State detection could not overtake the cheat. But has it calculated as skillfully the consequences of the reaction when it is overtaken? If they succeed, their candidate will owe his election to this miserable fabrication, as these shrewd young gentlemen and their shrewd employers and patrons very well know.

Let those honest citizens who have been temporarily deluded with a belief that they were obliged to support Governor Holden or greatly endanger the State, our good old mother, a hair of whose head no son of hers would hurt, now reward the perpetrators of that shabby hoax, by renewed and strong efforts to put in his place, that sterling old patriot, Jonathan Worth. There is no trickery in him. Frankness and candor are his characteristics. Those who know him best and have known him longest say that a more honest man never lived. He wears his heart on his sleave, and though claws have picked at it, he is honest still. His talents are known to be of a high order; and precisely such as the times require. His financial ability is unequalled in our State—and a financier is wanted now. Generous and true in his impulses he never showed his back to his friends. Unassuming and mild in his manners, during his long and useful life, he has made few if any foes. With an ardent and filial affection for old North Carolina, his cherished mother, displayed in many high offices she has asked him to fill, he is yet ready to lend her his strong arm, to lift her up again to her place in the family mansion from which he, at least, never aided in her mournful expatriation.

To the Friends of Hon. A. H. Arrington in the Fourth District.

There is a report in circulation in some parts of the District, that Hon. A. H. Arrington is the "Holden Candidate"—was solicited to run for Congress by Gov. Holden—and has declared himself in favor of Gov. H.'s election. These reports are all false. Mr. Arrington steadily adheres to the purpose expressed in his card not to canvass the District—has taken no part in the Gubernatorial contest—and will not do so.

Mr. Arrington's friends are warned against the unjust and unfair charges that have been circulated to his prejudice. Let them stand by him in this contest as they have done heretofore—and he will be triumphantly elected. He has no paper to advocate his election and to reply to the misrepresentations, circulated against him. He relies upon those who have heretofore sustained him in every emergency, to rally to his support now, and his election will be beyond a doubt.

A FRIEND TO TRUTH AND JUSTICE.

"Mr. Worth a Secessionist."

The Standard has repeatedly charged that Mr. Worth by voting not to postpone Mr. Turner's resolutions, was a secessionist. In its issue of the 4th it charges that Mr. Worth voted for the resolutions. This is untrue, as the Journal will show. The case we have fully explained in the notice of the Standard's attacks upon Mr. Turner. The question before the Senate was not their adoption but postponement, and the Journal shows the following vote in the negative: Messrs. Blount, Dockery, Dowd, Eure, Outlaw, Ramsay, Sharpe, Taylor of Nash, Turner, Walkup, Wheedbee and Worth. Will the Standard dare affirm that all these gentlemen were secessionists. The resolutions were designed to assert the right of revolution in opposition to the right of secession.

For the Sentinel.

Each Man to his Post.

The Governor complains in his Court Journal of the neglect of the Treasurer to advise him in his difficulties. Perhaps the Treasurer knew that advice had been often offered by others who really wished to aid his Excellency, which had been spurned. I say "the Governor complains &c." and I say so because he speaks of matters which could only be known to himself. Though the complaint takes an editorial form in his Journal, it must be considered his own. The amiable young gentlemen who ostensibly conduct that paper could not know those things. They unless divinely inspired as well as amiable, could not say what follows.

"As soon as Gov. Holden was appointed, Mr. Worth accepted from him the office of Treasurer; Mr. Worth became a co-laborer in the cause of restoration. He was in daily consultation and conference with Governor; but not one word did he ever say to the Governor about his course or any part of it, being wrong or unsatisfactory to him, or to his friends, or to the people. No man in North Carolina would have been heard by the Governor with more pleasure or with more influence than Mr. Worth. A suggestion from him would have been sufficient, and any reasonable course recommended by him, would have been adopted by the Governor. The confidential, relations between the two demanded that Mr. Worth should give the Governor the benefit of his advice and his judgment, if any thing was going wrong. If the Governor was abusing the intentions of the President, or doing anything to damage the people of the State, it was the clear and unquestionable duty of Mr. Worth to advise and consult with Gov. Holden. His official duties demanded that the Governor, the President and the people should have the benefit of his counsel and his advice, in the work of restoration. Still he never made a suggestion to the Governor, and never made known any disapprobation. He was appointed by Governor Holden to assist in the work of restoration. Mr. Worth under these circumstances ought to have given the Governor the benefit of his advice, and if the Governor pursued a plan not approved by him, he ought to have resigned his office. This is clear and unquestionable."

The public well knows that his Excellency had already surrounded himself with confidential advisers, before he appointed Mr. Worth as Treasurer. These advisers were comparatively young men—some of them having fair talent, all of them presumed to be "honest and capable," according to the Jeffersonian standard. These young men had been regularly installed. Either with or without their advice, his Excellency had chalked out his plan of reconstruction. It was already being executed in its details at great cost of cash and labor. It was ascertained on application to the President, that there had been no fund appropriated by Congress to pay this expense, as well as the expense of the Convention soon to be called. In that dilemma it occurred to the mind of his Excellency, that Gov. Vance had purchased large quantities of cotton and rosin, and perhaps other stores which might be available in the emergency. There might be other State resources, about which Gov. Vance and his Treasurer would of course be best informed. But Vance was in prison, and "could not come,"—in prison as he said for a security debt. So whatever he might have been able to do as to the last man, he was certainly not at liberty to hunt up the "last dollar." In this extremity, his Excellency's beseeching eyes were turned towards that glorious old financier Jonathan Worth. Money must be had, and who but the aforesaid Jonathan knew where it was, or how to get it? So in process of time, he was invited to take his Excellency's empty money bag, and see if he could replenish it. This was his special duty and trust. How nobly and satisfactorily that trust has been executed, all the world knows. Certainly the Convention knows, and so do the various officers appointed by his Excellency. So do the hotel and boarding house keepers. Jonathan Worth was appointed to rake up the funds. He went into office for that purpose, and for no other; and out of the ashes he has gathered enough of the needful to save the old State from present taxation. The Standard says the Governor did it. He did no such thing. He did nothing. He did not know what to do. Jonathan Worth by his persevering efforts day after day, and night after night, has succeeded in doing what forty governors would have failed in. And the cry is, "still they come." About 500 bales of cotton away down South, are now being raked up, about which his Excellency knew just as much as the man in the moon. This is the work of Jonathan Worth, and of him alone. And if he does not parade it in the papers, day after day, it is not because he does not deserve the credit, but because he is satisfied with his work, and is too modest to contest the merit, and with so high a claimant as his Excellency. When Jonathan Worth has work to do, he does it, quietly, energetically, without a fuss, and without caring much who, whether in high or low places, claims the credit.

Like good old Sarah Battle, chronicled in the "Essays of Elia," who "next to her devotions loved a good game of whist," and with whom whist was her business, her duty, the thing she came into the world to do—and did it. So with Jonathan Worth when he was made Treasurer, he deemed gathering up the funds of the State his business, his duty, the very thing he came into the office to do—and he did it. If his advice had been asked about other matters, judging from his known good humor, it would have been cheerfully given. But did his Excellency ever ask it? He does not say so. If he did not, and advice had been offered, would he not, in Gubernatorial style, have cocked his eye at the blushing old Treasurer, and advised him to take good care of the Treasury, and he and his aids and secretaries would take care of other matters. The wife of the mad cap king of Sweden, once offered advice to her husband about State matters. Madame, said Charles the Twelfth, we married you to give us children, not advice. His Excellency might possibly have replied to Mr. Worth, "we made you Treasurer to collect ravenues, not to give us your advice in high matters of State, of which we and our staff are the best judges." W.

To the Voters

Of the Second Congressional District, composed of the Counties of Pitt, Craven, Jones, Lenoir, Wayne, Greene, Edgecombe, Wilson, Onslow, Carteret, Duplin and New Hanover:

Fellow-Citizens:—Through the solicitation of friends, from the various counties composing the District, I announce myself a candidate to represent you in the House of Representatives of the next Congress of the United States.

In assuming this position, fellow citizens, I hope that I do not wholly fail to appreciate the grave responsibilities which are inseparably incident to it. Having just emerged from a ruinous and desolating war, subject alone to the military power and authority of the Federal Government, I know that the great loyal heart of the people yearns for the re-establishment of civil rule, and the restoration of the State to all the rights and privileges which she once enjoyed, as a peaceful member of the American Union. To attain the object of such intense anxiety and concern, should be the constant aim of every conservative statesman and patriot; and, believing as I do, that the charitable and magnanimous policy of President Johnson is most likely to achieve this result, I am now, and shall be always, ready to yield to his administration an honest consistent, and cordial support. The President is emphatically the tried friend of the Southern People; and to him we must look as to a "breakwater" between our dearest interests and the turbulent, destructive waves of malignant radicalism.

The President of the United States has said, fellow citizens, with true statesmanlike penetration, that "THE PEOPLE MUST BE TRUSTED," in order that mutual confidence may be entirely restored between the Government and the people. This generous, noble sentiment, coming, as it does, from the Chief Executive officer of the nation—the Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy of the United States—leaves us free and untrammeled in the selection of our own public servants, provided only, that we choose not men obnoxious for disloyalty or hostility to the government. With this sentiment constantly in mind, and believing too, that the harmony and good feeling which should pervade all sections of the State, will be greatly promoted by the election of a man of consistent record, of strict integrity, of peculiar fitness and true magnanimity, I shall give my vote for the Hon Jonathan Worth, for Governor.

With my former political course and position, fellow citizens, and the earnest efforts which I made to avert the dreadful calamities of war and our present lamentable condition, you are perhaps, more or less familiar. The limits of this circular forbid my speaking here in detail; and I must content myself with a simple reference to my record as a member of the exciting Legislature of 1860–'61, and of the recent State Convention; being firmly persuaded that whilst you may find in it much to approve, you will discover no just cause for withholding your confidence and support at this peculiar and critical period in the history of the State.

And now, fellow citizens, before concluding, permit me as one who honestly desires, above all things else, to see the people of the genial South once more a happy, united, and prosperous people, to earnestly conjure you to lay aside all strife and cause of strife, all discord, all crimination and recrimination, and to come as one man, to the great work which in part rests on you, of re organizing the government on that basis of justice and integrity which was laid by the wisdom of our fathers. It is indeed, a humane, a noble work. And if, in the exercise of your sound discretion, and after a becoming consideration of the peculiar circumstances by which we are surrounded, you should see fit to call me to aid you in this work, as your Representative in Congress, I humbly trust that I shall so labor in your behalf and in behalf of this momentous result, as to secure your warmest commendation and approval.

Very Respectfully,
Your Fellow-citizen,
CHARLES C. CLARK.

Newbern, Oct. 24th, 1865.

To the Voters of the First Congressional District of North Carolina.

Fellow Citizens:—I am a candidate to represent you in the next Congress of the United States, and on account of the early period at which the election will be held, I have adopted this means of making known to you some of the views which I entertain connected with our present situation.

I am for the shortest and most expeditious route to restore the State of North Carolina to her full participation in the responsibilities and benefits of the Federal Union, and am willing to yield anything to attain that object, except principle or honor.

I opposed secession with all my power, as unconstitutional, unnecessary and pernicious, but when a majority of the people of the South determined to submit the great questions, which divided the two sections, to the arbitrament of the sword, I sympathized with my people and my section. Their cause was my cause, her people my people, and their God my God. But when superior numbers and resources prevailed, and the decision was rendered against us, duty, inclination and interest, prompted me to submit; and I mean honestly and faithfully to observe all my constitutional obligations, to the Government of the United States, with alacrity and cheerfulness.

I hold that the Government of the United States is a Government and not an Agency, but at the same time I recognize certain rights and powers, reserved to the States, among which is the right to regulate their own internal policy, and I am unwilling to admit that North Carolina has not as fully those powers as any one of the States which compose the Federal Union, and I will never consent for her to resume her Constitutional obligations to that Union until that right is recognized; better stay as we are than enter the Union as an inferior member. I am for full equality or nothing.

I am opposed to negro suffrage, and, as at present advised, to their giving evidence against white people, but am in favor of their right to hold property, and ample protection against fraud or violence, and some plan by which they may be speedily transported and settled, where they can enjoy all the blessings and benefits of regulated liberty.

I am in favor of a general bankrupt law to be passed by Congress, in conformity with the Constitutional provision on that subject.

I shall, if elected, favor the opening, by the General Government, of a Ship Canal between the waters of Albemarle Sound and the Chesapeake Bay.

Fellow Citizens! I have no extra promises to make. If you shall deem fit to elect me to represent you in the next Congress, I will devote my entire energies to your service, and shall favor all measures which, in my judgment, will promote your interest. My antecedents are known to you. I am a whig of the Clay and Webster school, and the great principles of that party will be applied by me, in the decision of questions which may arise.

I shall support the administration of President Johnson, as long as he adheres to the principles already announced, but shall reserve the right to judge of my duty in supporting or opposing measures, affecting your interest, as they may arise.

Respectfully.
RUFUS K. SPEED.

To the Voters of Wake County.

At the request of many voters, I am a candidate in this County for the House of Commons of the General Assembly.

The Convention requested the Governor to appoint a committee of three persons to prepare and report to the Legislature a system of laws for freedmen, and to specify what laws relating to them, ought to be repealed. He has done me the honor to designate me as one of them. This work, with other indispensable engagements, will so occupy my whole time as to forbid my mingling much, if any, with the people.

I avail myself of this occasion to assure you of my grateful sense of your confidence recently expressed in electing me to the Convention. If I am honored again by your confidence, I shall strive to merit it by my services. Very respectfully yours,

COL. JAMES R. LOVE.

LOVE of Jackson County, as a Conservative—National Union Candidate for a seat in the House of Representives of the United States, in the 7th, Congressional District, composed of the Counties of Ashe, Alleghany, Watauga, Yancy, Mitchell, McDowell, Burke, Caldwell, Rutherford, Cleaveland, Polk, Henderson, Transylvania, Buncombe, Madison, Haywood, Jackson, Macon, Cherokee and Clay.
Oct. 25 1865.

TO THE VOTERS

Of the Fourth Congressional District, composed of the Counties of Orange, Chatham, Granville, Warren, Franklin, Wake, Johnson and Nash:

Fellow Citizens:—I hereby announce myself a candidate to represent you in the next Congress of the United States. The short time between this and the day of election, precludes the possibility of a canvass. Indeed, in the present condition of the country, a heated political campaign should be deprecated by all. The particular measures that will claim the attention of the ensuing Congress, cannot now with certainty be known. Hence, idle speculations and precedent pledges are vain and unnecessary. There is one question however, which seems to be agitating to some extent the minds of the people, both North and South, but which properly comes within the purview of the State Legislature. I allude to negro suffrage, to which I am utterly opposed. I am in favor, as no doubt all of us are, of the speedy restoration of civil law in the State.

If I am honored fellow citizens, by your suffrages with a seat in Congress, I can only promise you to guard zealously your best interests—to devote what ability I may possess to the advocacy and preservation of all your rights—and to uphold and maintain, to the full extent of my power, whatever measures will redound to the welfare, freedom and honor of North Carolina. I sincerely and ardently desire that our people may soon be restored to the enjoyment of all their rights both of person and property, and that they may again be blessed with prosperity, liberty and happiness.

Very Respectfully,
Your Obedient Servant,
A. H. ARRINGTON.

LIFE INSURANCE NOTICE.

THE ÆTNA LIFE INSUSANCE COMpany of Hartford, have appointed

their General Agent for the establishing sub Agents in North Carolina and Virginia, according to his discretion. This Company has no superior in this country, is of long standing, and its Assets are over a million and a half dollars. It has a surplus of $300,000 over and above what is required to reinsure all its policies. Its monthly receipts are over $150,000. And it is issuing monthly nearly 1000 policies. Its rates are moderate and reasonable, and all losses promptly paid. Thus it is commended to all who wish to provide for their families and loved ones, a certainty for support when their earthly dependants shall have passed away.

For fur her information, call on the agent at his office formerly occupied by General Haywood.

WM. H. CROW, Agent.

Raleigh, October 27 67-1m.

North Carolina Mutual Fire Insurance Company.

AT A MEETING OF THE DIRECTORS OF THE Company on the 27th of September, an assessment of 15 per cent. was levied on all premium Notes in the office of the Company at the time the losses occurred, to be paid in three installments, viz: six, nine and twelve months from 1st October, 1865.

The amount of premium Notes on hand,	$220,000
" " Allowed Losses,	10,000
" " Unsettled do.	7,500

(There are some losses not yet reported, the amount of which, of course, cannot now be stated.)

The assessment may appear to be disproportionate to the amount of the losses; but the Directors, taking into consideration the changes in property by sale, without transfer of policies, by destruction during the war, &c., &c., do not think that more will be raised by it than will be needed to meet the actual wants of the Company.

There will be, necessarily some delay in the payment of the losses. It is hoped, however, that there will be no complaint on this account; especially, when it is recollected that payment in some cases, was tendered in Confederate currency and refused.

The Company is prepared to take risks as in former times, and on as favorable terms. Address all letters to the Secretary. T. H. SBLBY, Pres't.

LOUISBURG

FEMALE COLLEGE.

REV. T. M. JONES, A. M., Pres't and Proprietor.

THE EXERCISES OF THIS INSTITUTION will begin onthe second Wednesday in January, 1866.

Louisburg is a village seldom surpassed for health, intelligence, refinement and morality. It is in Franklin County, nine miles from Franklinton, on the R. and Gaston Railroad. Between these points there is a daily stage line, connecting with trains going North and South.

The College building, located in a beautiful grove, on an elevated site, is large, commodious and well ventilated. It will be thoroughly renovated, and fitte dup with neat furniture and fire places in the dormitories. It is our purpose to establish for young ladies a school of the highest grade, affording superior facilities for the acquisition of a thorough and accomplished education.

With the advantages of a good library, a well selected Chemical and Philosophical apparatus, a competent Faculty, and large experience in connection with the Greensboro Female College, we hope, by a faithful discharge of duty, to merit a liberal share of patronage. Boarding pupils will live as members of the President's family. Terms reasonable, and will be made known in due time. Those desiring to send their daughters, will please address me, for the present, at Greensboro,' N. C, and circulars will be sent.
